OBITUARY.

Mrs. Michael McQuirk.

Anastasia Priney, widow of Michael McQuirk, passed away at her home, No. 48 Division street, at 5:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the advanced age of 84 years. She had been suffering from illness for some time. She was one of the oldest Catholic residents of the city.

She was born in Paterson, N. J., October 2, 1827, and was the daughter of Peter and Anne Brown Princely. The deceased came to Norwich 65 years ago and has since made her home here, where on November 24, 1846, she was married to Michael Mc-Quirk by Rev. Peter Binkley. Mr.
McQuirk was a carpenter and later became a contractor and builder. St.
Patrick's church on Broadway was built under his supervision. On November 24, 1910, Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Quirk observed an event which occurs but once in a lifetime, the golden wedding anniversary. At that time both were enjoying excellent health, being in full possession of all their faculties. Mr. McQuirk died on February 22 of this year.

She was very kind and loved for her kindly disposition and made her home happy by her cheerful, motherly ways.
She leaves two sons, Mrs. C. W.
Leman of Somers, Mass.; Mrs. Mary Cogan of Montville, Wis.; and these children: Mrs. Richard McQuirk of Durango, Col.; William H. McQuirk of this city; Richard McQuirk of Galveston, Texas; and Mrs. M. C. Higgins of this city.

Arnold Steinel.

The death of Arnold Steinel, aged 70, occurred in Preston on Thursday morning. His home was in Shelton.
He had been in the state hospital for two weeks. The body was taken in charge by Shea & Burke, and will be sent to the morgue this morning.

John Goucher.

Wednesday afternoon the death of John Goucher occurred at the Backus hospital. He was a mill operative in the city. He had been in the hospital for heart trouble and intestinal paralysis.
He was born in Russia in 1841, and was not married. The body was taken in charge by Church & Allen and burial will be in Montville.

Mrs. D. D. Wheeler.

Word has been received here this week of the death of Mrs. D. D.
Wheeler last Saturday at her home in Valparaiso, Indiana. During her residence here in Norwich, she and both she and her husband were members of the Central Baptist church.
She had the longest life of any of the children of the late Rev. J. B. Davis, who she lived in Valparaiso, and three sisters in this city: Mrs. A.
D. Smith.

AT POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

Those in Charge of the Work and the Depositors Named by the Government.

The postal savings bank at the Norwich postoffice was opened at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and continued open during the day. The bank was opened at this time there were two accounts opened and twelve certificates were issued. The showing for the first day opening day was telegraphed to Washington by Postmaster Caruthers Thursday night. The total of the deposits with the bank at this time will amount to somewhere in the neighborhood of $70.
Postmaster Caruthers considers the showing for the first day to be a very satisfactory one, and it is probable that as the movement gets better understood there will be a much larger increase in the business.

Assistant Postmaster Arthur L. Peale is in charge of the bank. He is assisted by Joseph A. Donnelly. The government has named the First National bank and the Thames Loan and Savings bank as the banks to be used for the postal savings bank funds.

The postal savings bank was opened at New London Thursday. The total deposits for the first day were 20.

Highway Commissioner MacDonald

State Highway Commissioner Mac-Donald was stalled here Thursday evening by trouble with his automobile.
He was on the way to New Haven and hoped to get the machine fixed up so that he could proceed on his trip.

The highway commissioner had been in Plainfield since last night, and stayed over night here with Inspector John Donovan. This morning he goes to New London and from there to New Haven.

Arrived on the Mauretania.

New York, Sept. 28.-Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada in England; William R. Hearst, Clarence Mackay, Frank A. Munsey and many other well known persons arrived from Europe tonight on the steamer Maure-tania.

NORWICH BULLETIN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911

LOGGERS' RIVER

Loaded With Stone Taken From River Bottom, it is now Submerged in the Shetucket.

Since the Thames Towboat company took the contract to remove the two sections of ledge in the Shetucket river, just north of the Laurel Hill bridge, it has had a series of delays which have been annoying, though not serious, and fortunately have not delayed the work very much. The first was the failure of several sticks of dynamite to explode which required an afternoon's delay. The second was the failure to get straightened out, but was not accomplished until the next day. This large section of the ledge, which was brought into the river to be broken out, was a huge stone when just out of the water lifted the boom out of its socket, and it was necessary to tow the stone to the shore and place it on a boom rest, the load of stone being unloaded at the same time. Some repairs were made to the socket block of the derrick at that time.

The last accident occurred on Thursday evening, when the lighter Carlton sank in the Shetucket. It has a good sized load of stone aboard, and at midnight the stern was under water so that only a bit of the engine house could be seen. The bow was out of water, as was some of the stone, but it will require quite a little work to get it to the surface again. The lighter is in the exact center of the river, and lies between the points where the two sections of ledge were which were blasted out. The lighter has been leading some during the week, and it was frequently necessary to pump the water out. It is supposed that the stone was under water during the night, and the weight of the rock on the deck hastened the submergence of the lighter. It is not known that anyone was aboard during the evening.
